

Omigod you guys! This is Kimberly Carpluk here to tell you about the best Broadway experience, like, ever! Do you want the most unique and fabulous time to be had when you go to see Legally Blonde? Well now Legally Blonde is offering a totally marvelous experience complete with pink feathered boas & ear-to-ear smiles! I acted as the "guinea pig" for this experience when I went to see Legally Blonde for my Sweet 16, and I can honestly say, it was the best Broadway show I have seen in a long time and one that I will definitely see again...and again... and maybe fifty more times after that. The show gave me such a "Positive," uplifting outlook on life. It was such a boost to my self-confidence to see Elle's undaunted emotional revelation as she realizes she can do "So Much Better" on her own and she doesn't need anyone to help her succeed (hear that Warner?). And let's just say to all those so-called "fans" who are content with simply re-watching Legally Blonde on MTV every time it airs, you are "Serious"ly missing out! Nothing can even compare to seeing the show live, up close, and personal.

As you sit in that beautiful Palace theatre and watch the energetic musical numbers and the witty dialogue, you feel the intensity of the actors' energy and emotion in the air around you. You forget that you are simply sitting there, viewing this story progress; you soon become enveloped in the show and part of Elle's world. You forget your own life and troubles, whatever they may be, and you relate to Elle's problems and gain hope and confidence in yourself as you see her succeed. Also, every show is different and unique, it has its own mistakes and flubs as well as the what the actors consider to be their "best performance." The day I saw the show, the benches for Callahan's class didn't come out during "Blood In The Water" and Elle, Laura Bell Bundy, had to sit on the floor! My friends and I will never forget that moment; we felt so special because no one else will ever see that same mistake again! And the final reason to see Legally Blonde on the Broadway stage: the men are so much cuter in person (Call me Noah)!

I was so lucky to be able to spend my Sweet 16 seeing this show, and I want to share this experience with all of you. Take my advice; see the Broadway show IN PERSON. I guarantee you will thank me! It is a once-in-a-lifetime experience that will change the way that you look at Broadway forever! Snaps!

Love,
Kim
